

New York City Employees PPO Plan members can access the Optum Behavioral Health Network in 2026

The New York City Employees PPO (NYCE PPO) Plan will be using the United Behavioral Health network, which operates under the brand Optum, to provide members with a high-quality network for mental health and substance use disorder treatment. This plan will be available to NYCE PPO plan employees, non-Medicare retirees and their dependents located nationwide beginning Jan 1, 2026.

With this agreement, you are considered in network for the NYCE PPO membership, and the terms of your Optum Participation Agreement apply.

Please note: Optum is not managing the benefits for the plan. As a United Behavioral Health network provider, you'll need to follow the NYCE PPO Plan workflows and processes when you provide service(s) to their members. These are different than how you get information and manage claims for Optum or UnitedHealthcare members. Please review the information below to ensure that you receive accurate, efficient and timely payment for the service(s) you provide to NYCE PPO Plan members.

NYCE PPO Plan members will continue to access mental and behavioral health services through Caredon Behavioral Health through Dec. 31, 2025.
